

Immigration: GOVERNMENT LIES EXPOSED

Government official reveals true figures..

THE GOVERNMENT'S former Chief Immigration Officer, Peter Tompkins, has revealed publicly how the figures for immigration into Britain are massively fiddled. With a record of heading the UK's controls on migration for 10 years Mr. Tompkins is one person whose statements on the subject cannot be argued with. For years the Government has claimed that immigration has been 'slowed to a trickle'. Everyone who lives in our cities has known for years that this was a complete lie - as British Nationalist has pointed out many times. Now the truth is emerging even in the heavily censored national media.

The Government's response to the devastating attack on both its immigration controls, and its honesty to those who pay the bills - the taxpayers - has been complete silence. No apology, no resignations, despite one of the worst scandals of recent years for which Government is responsible.

The true number of immigrants flooding into Britain is more than double the official figure of 55,000. Nearly 120,000 people, excluding those from EC countries, are entering Britain every year. Even this figure is almost certainly a huge underestimate. It assumes about 40,000 illegal migrants each year, when other senior immigration officers have estimated the number of illegals as at least 150,000!

The response from the other parties has been entirely as expected - silence! The only party in Britain with the guts to speak out against the scandal of uncontrolled immigration is the BNP. Only a BNP Government will take firm action to stop the flood - once and for all.

The picture that proves it...

THE MOB

Slowly but surely the mob is getting the upperhand in Britain's streets.

A school in Essex closed by violence from 'travellers'. Another riot in Central London. A young white man scarred for life by a black gang for holding a Union Jack. An entire London estate to be walled in to protect residents from drug dealers, and as we go to press news of new rioting, and the siege of a police station, in Leeds' notorious Chapeltown.

Britain is gradually returning to the world of two hundred years ago, in which inadequate policing, and the sheer numbers of the mob led to a policy of mass deportation to the other side of the world.

Two hundred years ago policing was carried out by a pitifully small number of parish watchmen or 'Charlies' - elderly men quite incapable of dealing with thugs and thieves.

Nowadays we have a well organised largely young police force - yet so hedged in by restrictions imposed on them by the liberal political establishment that they are unable even to prevent a gaggle of so-called 'travellers' from terrorising and closing a school.

Back to the world of the parish watchmen!

Our situation is, in fact, a great deal worse. Two centuries ago the citizen could and did defend himself. Try to do so now and you will find yourself in court.

Even the right to self defence is being removed - the rights of the criminal are now far more important than those of the victim!

Two centuries ago Mr. Citizen could at least expect punishment to be meted out to the criminal, if caught.

Safari holidays are now the 'punishment' in some cases - for the less fortunate criminal the holiday camp regime of many prisons.

No wonder our police are demoralised.

Who can blame them if they become cynical when one of the most senior police officers in the country, the Metropolitan Police Commissioner Paul Condon, tells his men that their most important task is not fight crime but to combat 'racism'.

Our law and order disaster could be reversed very rapidly, and peace returned to our streets - if the political will were only there.

Only the BNP will provide that political will.

THIRTY YEARS AFTER THE COMMONWEALTH IMMIGRATION ACT

'IMMIGRATION FIGURES A SHAM'

Says Government's Own Chief Immigration Officer

PETER TOMPKINS, who headed Britain's immigration controls until 1991, says that the public have very little idea of the truth about immigration into this country.

Not only are the figures for immigration massively fiddled by ignoring the flood of illegal immigrants, but the majority of those refused permanent entry after making bogus asylum claims disappear before they can be repatriated.

Only 15% of asylum claims are accepted as genuine - yet 95% of 'asylum seekers' contrive to stay in this country. The Government offers many immigrants what is called 'special leave to remain'. They are not then considered to be permanently resident - despite the reality - and are not counted as immigrants.

REVOLVING DOOR

Once granted resident status immigrants can then make bogus marriages to further foreigners, who then in turn can remain in Britain. The racket has been called the 'revolving door', and has received support from immigrant lobbying groups. Mr. Tompkins says that the Home Office will not act to stop it.

Many people living in Britain's inner cities will have met at least one person, usually unemployed and on the dole, who has been offered money to contract a bogus marriage with an immigrant.

As Mr. Tompkins says, whenever the issue of immigration is raised, the well organised small army of people, who hate this country, spring into action with cries of 'racism'.

Our cowardly and treacherous politicians can be relied on to do what they have done for thirty years - claim at election time that 'immigration is being stopped' - while the flood into Britain continues.

IMMIGRATION ACT

In 1962, faced with a Third World immigration figure of 115,000 in the previous year, the Government yielded

Hackney Council not only knowingly offers housing to illegal immigrants, but also promises complete secrecy

ILLEGAL MIGRANTS GET FREE HOUSING

Officials aid families who defy the law to public pressure by passing the Commonwealth Immigration Act.

Britain was told that large scale immigration was at an end. Labour and the Liberals naturally opposed the act, passed by the Conservative Government.

SWAMPED

The 1962 Act was followed by innumerable further new regulations. In 1968, Enoch Powell warned publicly of the consequences of immigration, which continued on a massive scale, and a further act was passed. Yet another bill in 1971, and another in 1981, passed by Mrs. Thatcher who claimed in the run up to the 1979 election that she would prevent Britain being 'swamped' by immigrants.

GOVERNMENT DECEIT

Governments, for more than thirty years, have imposed a massive program of deceit on the British people.

After endless claims to have 'controlled immigration' the flood continues undiminished. Even assuming 'only' 40,000 illegal immigrants per year, excluded from Government figures, as does Mr. Tompkins, the inflow of 120,000 per year is higher than in 1961!

IMMIGRANT HOUSING

Other senior immigration officers have estimated the number of illegal entrants at 150,000 - making annual immigration 230,000 per year. If so we are accepting enough illegal immigrants alone each year to fill four large towns like Dover! It is clear that massive collusion has been practiced by local councils, like Hackney, who knowingly house illegal immigrants. When Liberal Tower Hamlets attempted to question applicants for housing as to immigration status they were taken to court by the Government, who said they were acting illegally!

SOFT TOUCH

As African immigrants at London Airport said recently 'We came here because Britain is a soft touch'.

Every so often there are well publicised raids by immigration officers - to reassure public opinion. The flood then continues. Following the death of Joyce Gardner, while resist-

SCHOOLBOY PERMITTED TO CARRY DAGGER

A FOURTEEN year old boy is to be allowed to carry a dagger at school in Strathclyde.

The Sikh schoolboy, a pupil at Thomas Muir High School in Bishop-briggs, will take a dagger to school with him, which will be concealed beneath outer clothing.

BN regards the decision of the school authorities as utterly indefensible, as will parents all over the country.

PETER TOMPKINS, CBE, was head of the UK Immigration Service for ten years. Here, for the first time, he reveals how the official immigration figures are just a sham

LAST night 34 young men from Sierra Leone were completing their first week in the arrivals hall at Heathrow airport - a week they had largely spent filling in the forms which will shortly allow them to claim British social security handouts.

They came here claiming they were political refugees. They know that those two simple words are enough to prevent British immigration officers turning them away. It is widely known all over the world.

Whatever the justice or otherwise of their particular situation, I believe that it is the height of one of the most explosive issues in British public life - and one that is virtually ignored by politicians.

After 40 years in the Immigration Service, the last ten as its head, and after studying in depth the immigration control systems in other countries, I believe I know what I am talking about when I say that the British public have very little idea of the truth about immigration in this country.

Britain has traditionally given asylum to those fleeing persecution in their home countries. This is something support to the hilt. Where I differ from the official line is that I believe the level of immigration should be a matter of public knowledge, so that people can judge for themselves whether it is realistic, whether it is too high or whether it is too low.

That is surely a key element in the democratic process: giving people the facts so that they can, if necessary, use their voting power to challenge policies.

The danger with concealing the truth is obvious. Racists will twist the immigration figures and use them to spread their obnoxious beliefs, claiming that too many people from the developing world are being allowed into this country.

Others - those who wish for nothing less than the destruction of our ordered society - will twist them in another direction, setting on immigration controls to cry: 'Xenophobia!' They will demand the opening of the doors, so that there is no ceiling on the numbers who can come into the UK.

One can only imagine the intolerable strains it would put on Britain's economy. They would be grist to any revolutionary's mill.

What we ought to be doing is giving the right information to the many reasonable people in between, who are asking themselves: how can we be sure that those who claim asylum under false pretences do eventually go back where they came from, and don't stay in this country?

That question is one our Government is most reluctant to answer. The public have not been given the facts by this Government - or previous ones. The figures are being massaged, with the real numbers of people settling in this country from overseas spectacularly higher than the Home Office would have us believe.

My firm belief is that in recent years, at a conservative estimate, they have been running at more than double the official level.

Home Office statistics show that in 1985, around 55,500 persons from overseas, excluding those from the European Community, were granted residential status here.

Smug
Over the years, ministers have used this annual settlement figure to congratulate themselves on maintaining immigration at a low level. They smugly cite the 1985 total of around 70,000 as an example of how their policies have brought the tally down to last year's 55,000.

My own estimates tell a different story and are capable of standing up to any scrutiny. They show that more than 80,000 people should be added to that 1985 official total of 55,500. These 24,500 people, undocumented and unaccounted for, comprise two categories.

The generally accepted catch rate for one-in-25 people, that gives a figure of around 40,000 for those who have remained undetected.

came into force last July, vetting procedures have been tightened up, and that the refusal rate has risen substantially. This is correct but it still leaves the door wide open.

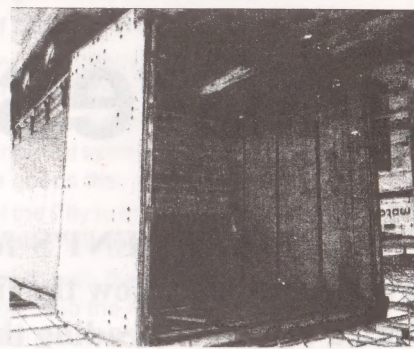

Immigration Service has exposed numerous such scams - but the Home Office seems unable or unwilling to take firm action.

BNP POLICY

Even the controlled media are unable to conceal from the public that immigration continues unabated. Anyone visiting our cities can see so!

The only party in Britain which will tell the truth about what is happening is the BNP. Individual politicians from other parties will admit the truth privately, but none in positions of authority will risk their careers by taking the action which is needed.

Only the BNP will stop immigration, and introduce the program of humane repatriation which Britain needs and demands.

● A counselling service for Afro-Caribbean pensioners has been set up in Ilford. The service says that 'some would like to return to their homelands, but don't know how to go about it'.

A BNP Government would make generous resettlement grants available to ethnic minorities, so that finance would be no bar to repatriation.

● Black MP Diane Abbott has been elected to Labour's ruling National Executive Council. Ms. Abbott was beaten on votes for the job by Ken Livingstone, but was allowed precedence under Labour's new 'positive discrimination' policy of quotas for women.

Ms. Abbott called recently, at a public meeting in East London, for the BNP to be stopped 'by any means', including on the streets.

It is difficult to see that such a statement does not condone and support violence.

Sikh wins knife battle

A 14-year-old Sikh boy is to return to school after it was agreed that he could carry his kirpan, a symbolic dagger, to classes. The boy was excluded from Thomas Muir High School in Bishopbriggs, Strathclyde, in April because the kirpan, one of five symbols of a baptised Sikh, broke health and safety rules. He has been tutored at home while a compromise was worked out but the youth will now be allowed to wear his kirpan to school so long as it is sheathed and worn beneath his outer clothing.

BN SPECIAL REPORT

WHAT THE CITY OF LONDON REALLY THINKS ABOUT BRITAIN'S FUTURE

INFLATION down. Investment up. Unemployment falling. A golden scenario for Britain's future, as the economy pulls out of recession. These are the sort of statements we regularly hear from both the Government, and the City of London. Thanks to the Government's policies of free trade, and firm monetary control, Britain has turned the corner after decades of decline.

What the City really thinks is revealed in a special issue of the investment magazine Taipan-UK, published by Fleet Street Publications, and available only by private subscription.

City investment advisers are not paid to be sentimental - except when talking up the economy for public consumption. Taipan-UK confirms everything that the BNP has been saying for many years about the horrific future awaiting Britain, if nationalist policies are not introduced.

Too many people in Britain still believe that, mysteriously, they or their industry will not be affected by the massive changes taking place in the world economy - in which most of Britain will be the loser.

They believe that if they continue to vote for the main parties, who are united in driving this country down the road to disaster, all will be well. Fear of change makes many voters continue to support the Lib/Lab/Con party - and thus end up facing change anyway - change for the worse!

FULL EMPLOYMENT

The world economy is facing a period of change greater than any since the Industrial Revolution of nearly two centuries ago.

Britain led the world's massive development into a modern economy. Most inventions until recently were British. We not only invented, for instance, the technology for mass steel production, we also profited from and exploited our ingenuity.

Our factories and offices, throughout most of the post Second World War period until the 1970s., provided almost full employment. It was taken for granted that the Government had a responsibility to ensure that jobs were available. Until the 1980s, mass unemployment was thought to be a relic of the past.

TORY SWINDLE

Mrs. Thatcher promised that free markets would restore full employment, when jobs began to be lost during the 1970s. What went wrong?

Since the 1960s, two major changes have taken place in the world economy. Firstly there are now global capital markets, making it as easy to invest in, say, Korea as in Britain. Secondly technology has increasingly built skills into machines, rather than people. Cars, for example, are sprayed by robots rather than by skilled men with a hand held spray gun. Thus factories can be built almost anywhere, using largely unskilled labour to operate them. Chinese and Korean labour will work for the proverbial bowl of rice a day -

By Our Economics Correspondent

generating rocketing profits for international companies. The policy followed by the Tory Government of international free trade was indeed guaranteed to produce jobs - but not in this country! Mrs. Thatcher conned the people of Britain with her claims that reorganisation of the economy would bring more employment.

WHAT TAIPAN-UK PREDICTS:

- A wedge of technology divides Britain further into haves and have-nots - 'those who leap into the economy of the future, and those who are trapped in dying areas'
- 'Inner city blight' will spread into the suburbs, as drugs take further hold
- The well off flee to stockades in remote country areas
- Commercial areas of some cities will become worthless
- Public services will be dramatically cut as the Government attempts to control public expenditure
- Millions will be permanently unemployed as the world economy moves to the Far East
- Retirement savings invested in pension funds will be decimated
- Gangs of fatherless children will roam the streets, as life becomes shorter and nastier

Your Choice

A SHORT PREVIEW: Two Britains

An unstoppable wedge is about to be driven through the heart of Britain. It is a wedge of technology and culture that will divide this nation into two very different parts: the haves and have-nots... those who make the leap into the economy of the future and profit, and those who are left behind, trapped in dying areas and a dying economy...

In one part, crime will spread. Homes will be boarded up. Gangs of fatherless young men and boys will roam the streets. People will live shorter, meaner, poorer lives. Property prices will fall... entire areas will be abandoned.

Sounds like an inner-city ghetto? Think again. This may be your street 10 years from now. Because the same plague that has destroyed the inner cities is spreading to the suburbs. There's a specific reason for this... which you'll discover on page 3. You'll also find out why the results will be far more terrifying than anything we've experienced.

Meanwhile, just a few hours' drive from these living nightmares will be some of the finest environments ever created on the planet. These enclaves of peace and prosperity will be protected by geography and electronic fortifications. And they will benefit from the technological breakthroughs that will totally transform our economy and our lives. They will have no factories and no chimneys. But they will be the centres of the new economy... and the smart areas of the 21st century.

Unlike the rest of the nation property prices in these communities of the future are already rising. See Page 9 inside to find out where these new Edens are and how you can take advantage of this long-term, well-entrenched trend.

But this is just a part - yet an important one - of the incredible future that awaits you. In this special report you'll also find out how:

US MODEL

The United States is already well down the road which Britain will shortly follow.

US policy has been to conceal the realities by creating low paid service jobs - millions of skilled workers now find themselves filling shelves, and turning hamburgers. Even many of the service jobs will soon disappear however. In Britain bookings for BA passengers flying around the country are now processed by staff in India!

The collapse of the inner cities in the United States is well known. The same will happen in Britain. Decline of the family and liberal 'do what you like' values mean further collapse in law and order.

Increasing numbers of jobs can now be carried out at home via computer links - making the traditional large office redundant.

Technology is making large numbers of middle ranking office staff unnecessary. Mass unemployment in a Britain at the mercy of the world economy will affect not only working class people, but also the middle class who have imagined themselves secure in the long run.

Taipan-UK advises leaving the cities - for what will become the most desirable places in the country - Dartmoor, Oban, and Hay on Wye!

While millions rot on the dole...

OUR KNOW-HOW GOES ABROAD AGAIN AS KOREANS BUILD BRITISH CAR DESIGN

SOUTH KOREA is to build a world beating car designed in the UK - putting the Japanese car industry to flight.

The tiny car, designed for city use, is being designed in Worthing. When it enters production, at the end of the 1990s., it will offer 100 miles per gallon, with air conditioning, and an unprecedented reduction in engine fumes.

It is intended to undercut the might of the Japanese car industry - making Korea the new world leader in car production.

UK CAR PLANTS TO CLOSE

Will Britain be enjoying the benefit of this British designed car - with jobs in British factories, and new investment in our devastated industrial areas? The car will be built in new plants in South Korea - while being

POSTMAN PAT ACCUSED Linked with Mafia?

GREENDALE'S Postman Pat has been accused of being linked with the Yakuza - Japan's Mafia.

Observant people will have noticed that Pat is missing his little fingers. In Japan members of the Mafia show their commitment to the notorious Oriental gangsters by having a finger removed. This has led to a ban on Postman Pat in Japan as unsuitable for children.

British Nationalist can reveal that there is no truth in the accusations.

Postman Pat lost both his little fingers in industrial accidents. His fingers were removed while delivering mail to the letter boxes of Rotweiler protected crack houses in Manchester's Moss Side area.

LAWLESS BRITAIN...LAWLESS BRITAIN...LAWLESS BRITAIN

MOB RULE OUR STREETS AS VIOLENT CRIME ROCKETS

BRITAIN'S law and order situation is steadily worsening. Even the Government's own highly suspect crime figures, which claim a reduction in some types of lawlessness, admit that violent crime continues to grow.

Rape offences have soared 15% in the last year, and muggings by an incredible 17%! There is now little deterrent to open violence, drug dealing and other criminality in our streets - and criminals know it! The mob is steadily becoming more confident and open in its activities - as our roundup below of crime stories shows.

The main parties, or perhaps we should say the main PARTY, since there is so little to choose between them, have no answers. The only party in Britain which genuinely supports law and order is the BNP. Our streets could be made safe within a few months, given the political will. Only the BNP has that will.

Members of the Anti-Nazi League and Class War attack the police during a riot in London's Park Lane during October. Public outrage was so great that the controlled media were forced to try to protect their left wing allies by pretending that the BNP had infiltrated these groups, and stirred up violence - something quite unheard of among the left! The fact that the media were forced into such absurdities indicates how they are losing the battle to control the public mind.

Human garbage from 'Rentamob' riot again in London's West End

LEFT WING terrorists were once again permitted by the Government to riot in the capital during October.

The same thugs who seriously injured dozens of police officers in Welling last year, and more recently rioted in Whitehall, once again went on a rampage in London.

The Socialist Worker's Party, darlings of the left-wing media, and the anarchist group Class War, together with similar splinter groups, were openly allowed to organise a riot.

Class War distributed leaflets all over the country calling for the police to be attacked. Their leaflet even ordered their supporters to attack any fellow demonstrators who seemed reluctant to join in violence. Many of the demonstrators, who joined what was nominally a march against the Government's Criminal Justice Bill, are naive people who simply do not understand what the organisers of these events are really engaged in.

The Government knew very well what would happen if the march were allowed to go ahead - as they did in Welling last year - yet they allowed it to go ahead.

The fact of the matter is that violent left-wing groups are invaluable to the Government as shock troops to attack patriotic groups like the BNP.

SCARRED FOR LIFE FOR HOLDING UNION JACK

A YOUNG MAN from Scotland, out with friends in London to celebrate New Year's Eve, was viciously attacked by a knife wielding black gang, leaving him scarred for life.

His offence? He was carrying a Union Jack - to attract attention from TV crews in Trafalgar Square. The group wanted to see themselves on television.

David Simpkins, from Dumfries, did not understand the state of lawlessness which now exists in London. He and his friends were followed to Holborn Tube Station, where a passenger was murdered not long ago, and then surrounded.

A youth from Harlesden has been on trial for the stabbing. The black youth said he associated the Union Jack with the BNP.

The BNP is now the only political party in Britain which does not despise the symbol of our country. Under a BNP Government the attacker would have found himself in Court on two charges - the stabbing and, additionally, for insulting the flag for which hundreds of thousands of our fellow countrymen have fought and died.

Victim mistaken for BNP supporter at Holborn tube 'Slashed for waving Union flag' — Crown Court is told

A TRAINEE manager was slashed with a knife at Holborn tube station after being mistaken for a BNP supporter by black youths on New Year's Eve, a court heard. David Simpkins, 25, from Dumfries, Scotland, and his friends were targeted because they were carrying a giant Union Jack flag, it was alleged. two or three youths who came alongside us, chanting and shouting 'burn the flag, down with the flag'. He said his chum removed the flag in a bid to defuse the situation. The teenagers disappeared but returned a few minutes later with three other friends, the jury was told. They continued to shout and one of the group pushed Mr Simpkins' friend. He said he was surprised, turned around, and was confronted by six youths chanting and jeering. But as he tried to calm them down, a teenager lunged forward and slashed his face with a knife, causing a 10cm long wound. The gash needed 17 stitches and has left him scarred for life. Mr Simpkins pointed out his attacker to the police.

And his friend, who witnessed the assault, identified the same person.

Perrotte denied attacking Mr Simpkins in a police interview. But he said he associated the Union Jack with the British National Party.

Perrotte denies wounding with intent and a lesser alternative charge of unlawful wounding. The trial continues.

Police Support 'Other Party'

A survey of serving Police Officers, by the News of the World, has revealed some interesting results.

The majority complain of 'political correctness' by senior officers.

Which party, then, do officers think would be best for law and order?

The survey yielded an intriguing result! 20% supported the Tories, 19% Labour, 5% Liberal, and 32% a party named as 'Other'.

Who could this intriguing party be?

The Monster Raving Loony Party perhaps, or something more familiar?

SCHOOL CLOSED BY TRAVELLERS'

AN ESSEX SCHOOL was forced to close by so-called 'travellers', who terrorised pupils and staff, and trashed the school buildings.

Sixty families parked caravans in a field opposite the school, and proceeded to stone young children and adults both outside the buildings and inside by smashing windows.

The school has had to be closed and boarded up, and the headmistress given a police guard. The police said that they were unable to deal with the situation.

Britain's descent into anarchy has now reached the stage at which roving bands of ne'er-do-wells can openly challenge even the existence of a school.

A BNP Government would not tolerate for ten minutes this kind of lawlessness. The public are sick and tired of being told that firm action cannot be taken to stop this kind of thing - because it would infringe 'human rights'.

Left wing councils have championed for years the right of 'travellers' to terrorise whole neighbourhoods.

● Milton United Football Club, near Abingdon, has been forced to abandon a match, and cancel all training sessions, by another gang of 'travellers' who have attacked supporters and players. The club house was broken into and vandalised after 20 caravans parked on nearby land, and the pitch was covered in broken glass.

TO THE POINT

"Those of us who pointed out that the EC would end in European integration on a massive or unacceptable scale were dismissed as eccentric, xenophobic, or plain barmy. But that is so often the price of pointing out the long-term logic of anything in politics."

POLITICS OF THE INDIAN SUB-CONTINENT ARRIVE IN BRITAIN

"Only Asians can serve all the community" - Asian Councillor tells Britain

ASIANS in Britain are poised to take over many of this country's safest Parliamentary seats.

The recent changes in Labour's constitution allow ethnic minorities to join in large numbers, and ensure that only their own people become not only MPs, but councillors too.

Many Labour politicians, who have fallen over themselves to support immigration, will soon find that they have created their own punishment. They will find themselves deselected from public office in favour of people they courted as supporters.

Odious Gerald Kaufman, the MP for Manchester's Gorton constituency, had a narrow escape from losing his job recently, when 600 Asians joined his local party. Since many of them were not on the electoral register, it was possible to block membership. Next time they will be far better organised. An Urdu newspaper has disclosed that ambitious Asians now pay £500 to families, whose entire membership then join Labour and will vote for their selection as MPs. Many cannot read, write, or speak English, but close family links allow them to operate easily as a group - quite unlike white communities, who have been divided by decades of anti-British propaganda.

Roger Godsiff, the Labour MP for Birmingham Small Heath, says that the politics of the Indian sub-continent, where anything goes, have now come to Britain. One Asian Councillor, Rangzeb (pictured), who has ambitions to become an MP, says that only Asians can serve everyone!

Labour has no way out of a situation they created themselves with their 'anti-racist' policies. It will divide their party internally in inner city areas. White members of the party will become disillusioned with Labour as control slips away - let alone the wider public.

AIDS GROUP DRUMMER ATTACKS 'RACIST' BNP

"Fears for our children's future"

DRUMMER Roger Taylor, of the aptly named group Queen, has hit out against the BNP, which he complains is getting more and more followers.

Taylor is very worried about the future of our children, which is a little odd since he made his money out of a band led by appalling homosexual pervert Freddie Mercury, who died of AIDS.

Taylor's latest contribution to Britain's musical heritage is a new record Nazi 1994. He apparently discovered his new mission in life when held up in a traffic jam in Germany, as the result of a right wing demonstration. Mr. Taylor couldn't believe that such chaos and personal inconvenience could be allowed to happen!

The BNP, too, is worried about our children's future - from the likes of Mr. Taylor, and groups which try to convince young impressionable people into adopting a homosexual lifestyle.

A BNP Government will protect our young people by making homosexuality illegal.

Roger's Nazi war

QUEEN star Roger Taylor is so worried about the rise of the far right in Britain and the rest of the world that he has written a hard-hitting song about it.

The record, called Nazi 1994, claims that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world. It says that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world. It says that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world.

Taylor sings out against the racists. He says that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world. He says that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world. He says that the BNP is a threat to the future of the world.

'Racist' Burger ban

FANCY a burger? A hot dog perhaps? Not in parts of Leicester's streets.

Hamburgers and hot dogs sold from stalls have been banned by new regulations introduced in Leicester. The city council has decreed that meat sales by street traders, in the Belgrave area, are to be stopped for a month during the Hindu Festival of Diwali.

The ban has been introduced by Leicester's Head of Environmental Protection, one Peter Webster.

Will Mr. Webster be falling over himself to satisfy the native population of Britain's wish to keep their traditional way of life? We were told not so many years ago that Britain's immigrants would be 'integrating' into our way of life, not the other way round.

BN BRIEFING

WHAT IS A WOMAN?

Now that the Labour Party has decreed that only women may be chosen to become MPs, in many areas of the country a big question arises. What is a woman? In these days of sex change operations and transvestites clearly discrimination must not be allowed. Labour has the answer! A woman, according to the 'people's party' is 'anyone who lives as a woman'. One 'female' member of the party, who started life as a man, has already asked to be a candidate.

So now you know!

'EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES'

Nottingham Council's Chief Executive, Mick Lyons, has said in a report that the so-called 'equal opportunities' policies of the council for hiring staff now 'limit its ability to provide an adequate service to the public'. We all know what 'equal opportunities' means! Mr. Lyons is soon to become the Chief Executive of extreme left wing Birmingham City Council.

Birmingham now spends over £1 million a year on its 'race unit', with plenty of 'positive discrimination', and the budget is to be increased. Complaints grow all the time as Brum works for the future multiracial Utopia, which is just round the corner.

It will be interesting to see how Mr. Lyons gets on in his new job!

CRIMINAL TO BE CANED

A 23 year old Jamaican, who paralysed a 52 year old woman in a knife attack, has been sentenced to six strokes of the cane, as well as imprisonment, by a court in Kingston, Jamaica. The judge said he had considered using the cat-o'-nine-tails. Jamaica is suffering a crime wave, which is upsetting the tourist industry.

Many people in Britain may be thinking we can learn something from Jamaica.

CAN'T SPEL? WHY NOT BECOME A HEADMISTRESS

INSPECTORS in 'loony left' Lambeth ordered a local school to consider an Asian woman for a £20,000 job as a headmistress - even though she could not spell!

The Council's equality zealots told Governors that it would be against the rules to exclude her from a shortlist of applicants for the job. The applicant's letter to the Council was full of spelling errors. She could not spell "primary", "Councillor", or "University".

Local children were only saved by a ruling that teachers had to be 'effective communicators'.

The BNP has warned for years that schools are failing our children on a massive scale. The most important qualification for a teacher in Britain nowadays is not teaching ability, but 'political correctness'.

Outrage over head's job and teacher who could not spell

SCHOOL chiefs demanded that a teacher be interviewed for a headship even though she was unable to spell.

They ordered astonished governors to include her on the shortlist of candidates in spite of the fact that her application form was littered with simple spelling errors.

A schools inspector from Lambeth insisted that the governors would be breaking the council's employment rules if they rejected the applicant because she could not spell 'primary' or 'councillor' or 'Warwick University'.

priority. It is vitally important that the head of a nursery school, or any school, should be able to spell. There are enough problems these days with children who can't spell.

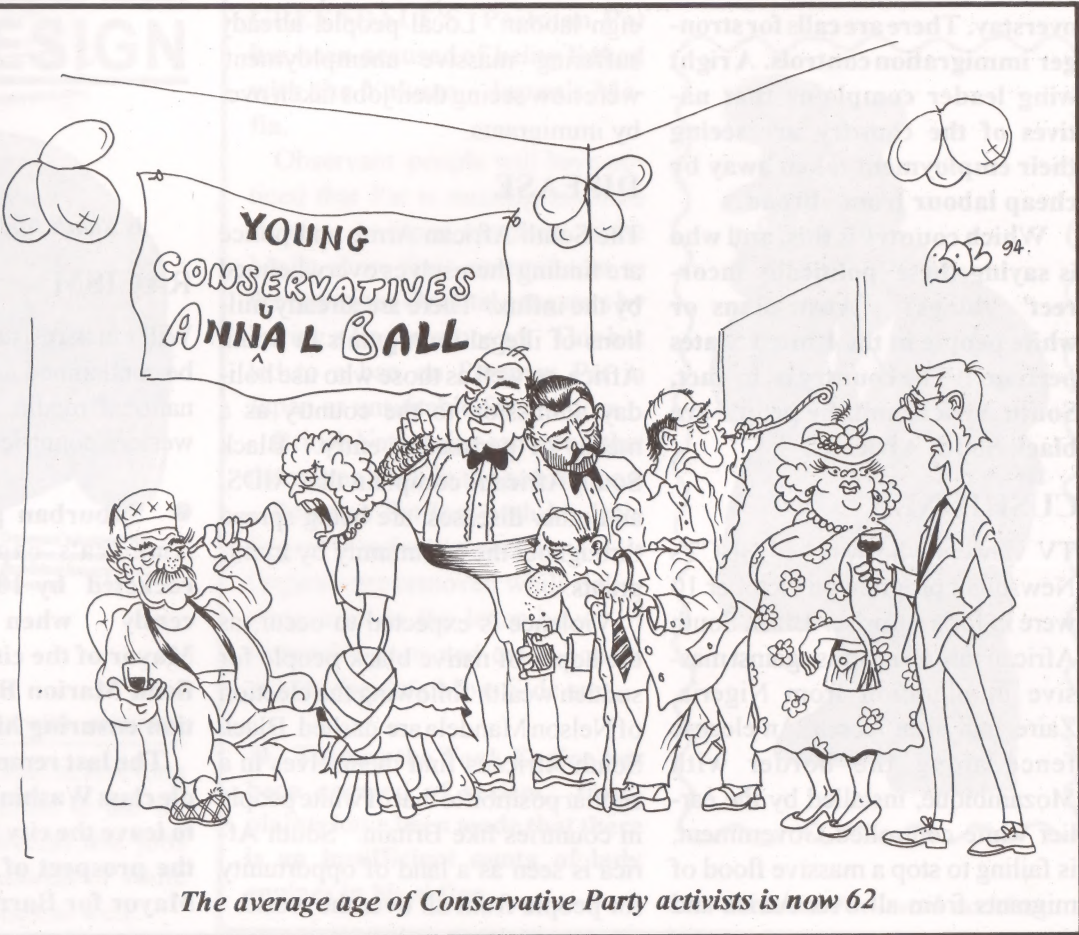

The panel refused to budge and eventually ruled out the application because the woman did not meet the council's rules stipulating that she must be an 'effective communicator'.

A new head teacher has since been appointed at the school, which caters for up to 100 under-fives.

This is the latest in a string of confrontations between school governors and council officials.

Lambeth refused to discuss the case but insisted that the recruitment policy underlying the need for heads to be qualified and have a high level of 'written and oral communication skills' had been followed.

"The appointment process is much more complex than whether someone has made some spelling mistakes," said an education spokeswoman.

The average age of Conservative Party activists is now 62

FOREIGN NEWS

CAMPAIGN AGAINST IMMIGRATION GROWS

RESIDENTS groups call for repatriation of immigrants. Local people say that the massive influx of people receive better treatment than themselves, and bring disease and an outbreak of mugging attacks. The police say that it is too easy for people to enter the country on holiday visas and then overstay. There are calls for stronger immigration controls. A right wing leader complains that natives of the country are seeing their employment taken away by cheap labour from abroad.

Which country is this, and who is saying these 'politically incorrect' things? Australians or white people in the United States perhaps? The country is, in fact, South Africa, and the people are black South Africans!

CUSHIONED

TV viewers who watched BBC2's Newsnight program on October 10 were in for a surprise. Black South Africans are up in arms against massive immigration from Nigeria, Zaire, and even Korea. An electric fence along the border with Mozambique, installed by the earlier white controlled Government, is failing to stop a massive flood of migrants from all over Africa and elsewhere. Zulu Chief Buthelezi warns that the country's reconstruction program is threatened, and with it the welfare of black South African people. The Zulu Inkatha Freedom Party has complained about open drug dealing by immigrants. Under the white regime black South Africans were cushioned against cut price foreign labour. Local people, already suffering massive unemployment were now seeing their jobs taken over by immigrants.

DISEASE

The South African Army and police are finding themselves overwhelmed by the influx. There are already millions of illegal immigrants in South Africa, as well as those who use holiday admission to the country as a means of permanent entry. Black South Africans complain that AIDS, and other diseases, are being spread throughout the community by immigrants.

Violence is expected to occur, as the hopes of native black people for sudden wealth following the election of Nelson Mandela are dashed. Black South Africans find themselves in a similar position to that of white people in countries like Britain. South Africa is seen as a land of opportunity for people from all over the world.

Is South African Archbishop Tutu praying for immigration controls?

RACISM

Will black resistance to immigration be condemned as 'racist' by the international media, as has occurred in western countries for many years?

● Suburban property prices in America's capital Washington rocketed by 10% in one day recently - when the black former Mayor of the city, convicted crack fiend Marion Barry, won an election ensuring his return to office.

The last remnants of white middle class Washington were expected to leave the city for the suburbs, at the prospect of a further term as Mayor for Barry.

● The nationalist Austrian Freedom Party, which is opposed to immigration, won almost a quarter of the country's vote in the recent general election. The leader of the party, Jorg Haider, is on track to become the next leader of Austria.

Haider was condemned recently for his suggestion that Hitler's successful program to solve massive German unemployment might have been a good thing! Austria is suffering a crimewave as a result of immigrant gangs, particularly from the former Soviet countries.

BRITISH NATIONALIST NEEDS YOUR HELP!

BRITISH NATIONALIST is pleased to announce that sales are at record levels, thanks largely to increasing bulk orders by local units.

The massive influx of new members since the election of Derek Beackon last September has also helped boost circulation, thanks to the greatly increased number of subscriptions by individual members and supporters of the BNP.

One thing which readers constantly request is more news about BNP activities up and down the country. Despite local party activity being at its highest level since the formation of the BNP, some units are still not letting us know of their good work! Units should send us regular reports, together with any photos and press cuttings.

Readers perform an invaluable service by sending us press cuttings from local papers, and other items, regarding issues often suppressed in the national press. We have as a result, for example, been able to expose corrupt Labour councillors. Items of local news are often of great importance in building up a national picture of what is happening. Please do not mark press cuttings, excepting the date and name of newspaper (if not shown) since this may prevent reproduction in BN.

Please help us by keeping those news items rolling in!

SUPPORT GROWS IN CREWE

Huge publicity following successful membership drive

BNP ACTIVISTS in Crewe have won massive local publicity following the distribution of thousands of leaflets throughout the area. Stoke-on-Trent Unit, assisted by local members, recently organised activities in selected areas of Crewe in which support is known to be strong and growing rapidly.

The BNP has received a substantial number of letters of support from the area, both following the tragic murder of Catherine Ayling, and also as a result of growing alarm at the disappearance of local jobs.

NEW UNIT TO BE FORMED

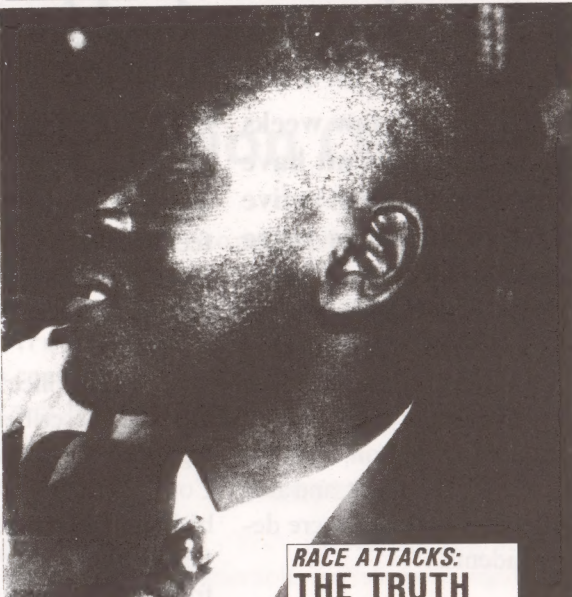

The party plans to capitalise on interest in the area, and form a new Crewe unit as soon as possible - probably during the next few months. More and more former industrial areas of Britain, which have been devastated by the dismantling of our factories and businesses by the Tory Government, are turning to nationalism as the only answer.

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT

The publicity attracted the standard bleatings from the left about 'reporting' the BNP - usually the police are suggested, but in this case to an MP. The purpose is to give the false impression that the party's perfectly legitimate activities have infringed some law.

Well done Crewe!

Right wing recruitment bid

Killing was 'race attack' say BNP

RACE ATTACKS: THE TRUTH

While some media whip up hysteria over attacks on ethnic minorities, ignored and forgotten Whites get little sympathy. The BNP and its members have been the target of a campaign of vilification and abuse. The BNP has been accused of being a hate organisation, of being responsible for the death of a young woman, and of being a threat to the peace of the country. The BNP has been accused of being a racist organisation, of being a threat to the peace of the country, and of being a threat to the peace of the country.

KILLER: Howard leaving the Old Bailey last week.

RACE CLAIMS: One of the leaflets going out to South Cheshire homes.

TV gags the BNP again!

Some readers may have seen the Channel 4 program Child's Eye, shown on September 25. BNP National Press Officer Michael Newland was pressed by Channel 4 to give an interview to Asian children, for inclusion in the program. When the documentary was finally shown the censors had struck again! The program makers were shown leaving the BNP shop in Welling. A decision had been made not to use any of the interview, it was said - which speaks volumes for how it actually went!

The program then continued with comment on what had been said in the interview, out of context, and with no opportunity to reply. In short it was obvious that Channel 4 had no intention of allowing an honest debate - while the use of children as interviewers could be used as an excuse behind which to hide.

It was then claimed that the interviewing team had been frightened during the filmed discussion. If any of the film had been shown it would have been obvious that this was far from the case - thus a classic smear technique was employed.

The BNP is considering an objection to the Broadcasting Complaints Commission on the grounds of a lack of balance, and unfairness in the coverage of the BNP.

How the local Sandbach Chronicle reported BNP activities in the Crewe area to 25,000 readers. Excellent publicity for the party, particularly in the reproduction of the new racial attacks leaflet.

The reporting includes hardly any attack on the BNP - a new development which is becoming increasingly common recently in the media.

BNP Annual Rally in London NOVEMBER 5TH

In the afternoon

SPEAKERS WILL INCLUDE:

RICHARD EDMONDS

MICHAEL NEWLAND

JOHN TYNDALL

Chairman: DAVID BRUCE

In the interests of security, the location of the rally is not being publicly disclosed. However, if you wish to attend the rally you may do so by one of the following methods:-

- (1) Contact your local BNP organiser with a view to travelling to the event with a regional party, in which case you will be asked to meet at the local rendezvous point to proceed with others to the rally.
- (2) Contact the BNP Bookshop by telephone, giving your name and address together with the name and address of another BNP member known to the party who can vouch for you, in which case you will be provided with a special rendezvous point at which you will be met by stewards and taken to the rally.
- (3) Rendezvous with BNP stewards at the entrance to Green Park Underground Station at the northern corner of Green Park, Piccadilly, London W.1, at not later than 12 noon.

Of the above methods we most strongly recommend (1). If this is impossible, (2) is the preferred method. If (3) is adopted, we warn all those concerned that some difficulty may be experienced linking up with stewards if a large opposition contingent is in the near vicinity and police are found to be restricting movements. Should anyone arriving at the Green Park rendezvous fail to meet stewards, they may telephone the BNP Bookshop (081 316 4721) for directions for getting to the rally. However, because of considerations of security it cannot be guaranteed that such directions will be given to all callers.

- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.

- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, and the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
